

Wonder Woman, Wakanda, and Work: Make Your Elearning Representative

When you're done with the challenges (and you can do just one or as many as you'd like), email your work to wwwwelearning@gmail.com to get feedback from Tricia Ransom and Judy Katz.

Challenge 1

Write an introduction for a scenario involving an employee who is being written up for having a romantic relationship with someone at work, which is against company policy.

Mention at least three characters by name: the employee, the employee's romantic interest, and the employee's supervisor.

Include a visual of at least one character (hand-sketched images and watermarked stock photos are fine).

Challenge 2

Create a cast of 8-10 characters that you could use for scenarios across your elearning. Write a description and include visuals for each character.

Challenge 3

Identify an area in which your company has been trying to increase diversity (or an area in which you think they should). Research ideas for improvement and storyboard a mini-course, complete with diverse representation.